The prophetic side of the ancient saw, adds our correspondent, suggests many hopes and is open to many interpretations. But within the limits of the Catholic Church it certainly seems to be in the way of working itself out into a matter of fact, as may be seen by a glance at the map of the Catholic dioceses of England, and a reference to the scatistical statement as to priests and churches in the current Pirectory. The latter official record assures us that upward of 2,850 masses are now said daily in England.

Treasury Department for some time. It was said last week that the question whether Russia does in effect pay a bounty on experts of sugar, which is the cause of the charse of a countervailing duty, would be referred to the Attorney-General, and it was so referred. It was subsequently withdrawn, however, by Secretary Gage, who concluded that the case was clear enough to warrant him in deciding the question unassisted. The decision was that the Russian Government does by indirect means pay a bounty on susar exportations, and this fact under the tariff law calls for the imposition of a countervailing duty equivalent to the amount of the supposed bounty.

The question has attracted the serious attention of American exporters as well as importers because of the fear that the Russian Government will institute retaliatory measures. Among these measures are the threatened higher duties in Russia on American iron and steel and the exclusion of the United States from an equal chance with other nations in the new Siberian tariff schedule
